Will you let my love be shown? Will you let my name be known,
will you let my life be grown in you and you in me?

Will you leave yourself behind if I but call your name?
Will you care for cruel and kind and never be the same?
Will you risk the hostile stare should your life attract or scare?
Will you let me answer prayer in you and you in me?

Will you let the blinded see if I but call your name?
Will you set the prisoners free and never be the same?
Will you kiss the leper clean and do such as this unseen,
and admit to what I mean in you and you in me?

Lord your summons echoes true when you but call my name.
Let me turn and follow you and never be the same.
In Your company I'll go where Your love and footsteps show.
Thus I'll move and live and grow in you and you in me.

HELPING KIDS BE RESPONSIBLE

Our children are created with a beautiful array of gifts, talents and personality traits. Unfortunately, being responsible isn't something our kids are hardwired for. Responsibility, consistency and follow-through are learned behaviors. Here are some ideas to help.

The truth: Kids of all ages hate chores, and they will do just about anything to avoid them. This doesn't make them difficult; it just makes them kids. It's our job to set the expectation, demonstrate the behavior and establish consequences that are more undesirable than the chores they are trying to avoid.

The plan: Lay out clearly the responsibilities of each child. Explain what some of your responsibilities are, and talk about what happens if there isn't follow-through. For example, your responsibility as a parent is to do laundry; their responsibility is to gather the clothes that need to be washed. Sharing responsibilities makes a family "work," so everyone in the family has a role.

Begin early: It is much easier to pick up a toddler's toys yourself, but sitting on the floor in a sea of toys holding the toy basket and coaching them will pay off in the long run. Kids want to be helpful at this age, and something as simple as emptying the bathroom trash is a way to begin learning responsibility. My most stubborn toddler was met with an empty snack bowl because he hadn't put away his toys or emptied the trash can he was responsible for. I kissed his cheek and told him I would be responsible for putting blueberries in his bowl as soon as he took care of his responsibilities.

When they get it right: We notice and nag when they neglect their responsibilities, but we need to notice when they get it right. They don't need a trophy; a simple thank-you for being responsible and getting their laundry into the hamper will do. I remember how my young daughter smiled during evening prayer when I said I was thankful for sparkly clean toilets. The task she dreaded became one she took great pride in.

Masterful consequences: Our kids and many of their friends raised 4-H animals, and part of their responsibility was making sure they were fed, watered, exercised and had a clean pen. Two of their friends had a tough time getting up early enough in the morning to get ready and take care of their pigs before school. They knew their mom would pick up the slack if they forgot. They were right the first couple of times, but the third time it happened, Mom arrived at school in her chore clothes, walked into the girls' classrooms and told the teachers her daughters needed to leave for a short time to go home and feed their hungry pigs. The best consequences don't belittle, demean or drone on in an emotional or angry tone; they elicit an action. Our kids were able to feed themselves, but the animals they cared for weren't — so they were responsible for feeding them before they fed themselves.

Timely correction: If a child doesn't follow through with clearing the table or getting the wash into the hamper, grounding isn't the answer. Taking screen time, car keys or a favorite toy until the responsibilities are met is action-based and helpful.

Call on the helpers: The saints exist to intercede for us and help us grow in holiness. Share and connect the stories of St. Thérèse of Lisieux, Brother Lawrence or dozens more like them who turned simple and mundane responsibilities into a chance to grow closer to God.

FAITH FORMATION

All are Welcome!

Please join us Sunday, October 3rd at 9:00 AM at the Assumption Church parking lot as we "kick off" a new year of Faith Formation with a special outdoor Mass celebrating respect and care for all life, and the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, followed by the Blessing of Animals.

Bring your pets, living or stuffed and a portable lawn chair. In the event of inclement weather, Mass will take place in Assumption Church as usual at 9:00AM without live animals. Children's favorite stuffed animals will still be blessed.

Your family's Faith Formation Registration Forms will be collected in Assumption Church Hall following the conclusion of Mass and the Animal Blessing.

Faith Formation Fees remain the same from 2020-21: One Child = $100; Two or more = $150

If you have not had children registered previously in our Faith formation Program, or are new to our Parishes, please call the Parish Office at 508-865-6624 and a form will be sent to you. You may also visit the Faith Formation Page on our website https://stbrigidparish.org and download the registration form.

If your family is not currently registered with either Parish, forms will be available in the hall.

Can You Help? – This year we will be having each class participate in at least one liturgy and we also plan to have a Christmas/Epiphany Presentation at both Churches and an Easter Morning Class Presentation (PreK and Grade 1). Additionally, the students will be involved with some seasonal projects. For all these opportunities to take place, we will need your help in a variety of ways including:

- ◊ Making costumes for Christmas and Easter presentations
- ◊ Assisting with rehearsals
- ◊ Assisting at class or at home with hands-on activities – making Giving Tree Gift Tags, cards to shut-ins, Thanksgiving Prayer project and more.

Please contact Deborah Blicharz, deborah.blicharz@stbrigidparish.org, if you can help with these projects and programs. Even if it is just once or twice a year, it would an enormous help and would help bring our Program to life.

Following the requirements of the MA Department and Elementary and Secondary Education and the Worcester Diocese for public school students, we will be offering in person – fully masked, socially distanced, hands and furniture sanitized – Faith Formation classes. If parents request another option – we will be offering a home-schooling alternative. Loyola Press has an excellent home-schooling program.
